

Current Approaches in Addiction Psychology

Collection Editor: Eda Ermagan-Caglar

Description

This book attempts to cover different issues and aspects on addiction psychology on different methodological views from an international perspective. The objective is to give general information on some of these traditional and contemporary addiction types by providing views and perspectives of its authors through the chapters.

About the Editor

Eda Ermagan Caglar is a lecturer at University of Northampton. She holds a PhD in Forensic Psychology. Her research interests mainly include addiction psychology, eyewitness memory and psychological resilience. In addition to her academic career, she has also worked in her field as a counselling psychologist.

Submission Requirements

All chapters submitted should conform to the grammar and formatting guidelines provided by Cambridge Scholars Publishing, which can be viewed here: <https://www.cambridgescholars.com/pages/forms-guidelines>;

Unless agreed with the Editor prior to submission, referencing should be in Chicago;

Any work submitted for publication should be free of copyright restrictions and a statement should be submitted in support of this;

Contributions should be scholarly rather than anecdotal or unverifiable;

Contributions must be wholly in English, excluding footnotes, appendices and short extracts for translation;

While we will perform pre-press evaluations on the collection, we do not provide full proofreading services, so we ask that works are submitted to us in their final, 'ready-to-go' form.
