

Education in Troubled Times: A Global Pluralist Response

Collection Editor: Yahia Baiza

---

Description

This book presents a global pluralistic response to, and a dynamic discourse on, education in troubled times. It focuses on some of the major contemporary issues, such as neoliberalism and market economy, demographic change and population growth, environmental crises, technology and automation, conflict, and migration, and their impacts on education and society.

About the Editor

Yahia Baiza is a research associate at The Institute of Ismaili Studies in London, and Bloomsbury Education and Childhood Studies Regional Editor for Afghanistan. He specializes in education, Islamic and Central Asia studies. He is also a consultant on various levels and aspects of education, including curriculum, policy, and planning.

Submission Requirements

All chapters submitted should conform to the grammar and formatting guidelines provided by Cambridge Scholars Publishing, which can be viewed here: <https://www.cambridgescholars.com/pages/forms-guidelines>;

Unless agreed with the Editor prior to submission, referencing should be in Chicago;

Any work submitted for publication should be free of copyright restrictions and a statement should be submitted in support of this;

Contributions should be scholarly rather than anecdotal or unverifiable;

Contributions must be wholly in English, excluding footnotes, appendices and short extracts for translation;

While we will perform pre-press evaluations on the collection, we do not provide full proofreading services, so we ask that works are submitted to us in their final, 'ready-to-go' form.

You can view open projects at the link below:

<https://www.cambridgescholars.com/pages/guest-edited-collections>

