

From Threats to Blessings: Addressing Crises in Religious Discourse

Collection Editor: Raluca Levonian

Description

This volume explores the construction of past and present situations of crisis such as wars, migration, epidemic diseases and others in religious discourse, focusing on the relation between the discourse of religious and state authorities, the discursive construction of critical situations, the reinforcement of religious beliefs and identities.

About the Editor

Raluca Levonian currently teaches Romanian Language at the University of Udine. From 2010 to 2017 she was Visiting Lecturer and Researcher at the University of Calabria. She holds a Ph.D. in Linguistics awarded by the University of Bucharest in 2009. Her research interests include pragmatics, discourse studies, political and religious rhetoric.

Submission Requirements

All chapters submitted should conform to the grammar and formatting guidelines provided by Cambridge Scholars Publishing, which can be viewed here: <https://www.cambridgescholars.com/pages/forms-guidelines>;

Unless agreed with the Editor prior to submission, referencing should be in Chicago;

Any work submitted for publication should be free of copyright restrictions and a statement should be submitted in support of this;

Contributions should be scholarly rather than anecdotal or unverifiable;

Contributions must be wholly in English, excluding footnotes, appendices and short extracts for translation;

While we will perform pre-press evaluations on the collection, we do not provide full proofreading services, so we ask that works are submitted to us in their final, 'ready-to-go' form.

You can view open projects at the link below:

<https://www.cambridgescholars.com/pages/guest-edited-collections>

