

Fulfilled Lives: A Literary, Philosophical and Religious Journey into Well Being

Collection Editor: Nili Alon Amit

Description

What is happiness? How has happiness been defined in the history of thought and culture, and how did it develop into contemporary views? This book brings together contemporary research in the fields of philosophy, literature, religion and education, focusing on various aspects of happiness – theoretical, poetic, religious, practical, and more.

About the Editor

Nili Alon Amit, PhD, is a Visiting Assistant Professor at the Israel Institute, UCLA. Her research centres on ancient and modern philosophy and literature, with a focus on the history of soul and happiness from biblical writings to postmodern literature.

Submission Requirements

All chapters submitted should conform to the grammar and formatting guidelines provided by Cambridge Scholars Publishing, which can be viewed here: <https://www.cambridgescholars.com/pages/forms-guidelines>;

Unless agreed with the Editor prior to submission, referencing should be in Chicago;

Any work submitted for publication should be free of copyright restrictions and a statement should be submitted in support of this;

Contributions should be scholarly rather than anecdotal or unverifiable;

Contributions must be wholly in English, excluding footnotes, appendices and short extracts for translation;

While we will perform pre-press evaluations on the collection, we do not provide full proofreading services, so we ask that works are submitted to us in their final, 'ready-to-go' form.
