

Handbook of Advances in Life Sciences

Collection Editor: Jill Shukla

Description

Research in life sciences is increasingly becoming interdisciplinary in developing countries. Interdisciplinary life sciences integrate multiple disciplines in the search for solutions to multifaceted problems under the general umbrella complex of biological systems.

About the Editor

Dr. Jill Shukla performed her PhD in Pharmaceutics and currently acts as a Director of Vibgyor Pharma Pvt. Ltd. She has acted as speaker and chair for many international conferences and attended them to express her views. She has many international affiliations to her name.

Submission Requirements

All chapters submitted should conform to the grammar and formatting guidelines provided by Cambridge Scholars Publishing, which can be viewed here: <https://www.cambridgescholars.com/pages/forms-guidelines>;

Unless agreed with the Editor prior to submission, referencing should be in Chicago;

Any work submitted for publication should be free of copyright restrictions and a statement should be submitted in support of this;

Contributions should be scholarly rather than anecdotal or unverifiable;

Contributions must be wholly in English, excluding footnotes, appendices and short extracts for translation;

While we will perform pre-press evaluations on the collection, we do not provide full proofreading services, so we ask that works are submitted to us in their final, 'ready-to-go' form.
