

Meals, Feasts, and Hospitality in the Old Testament

Collection Editor: Kirsten Gardner

Description

Eating is central to the way in which the Old Testament narrates pivotal moments in the life of ancient Israel. Literary representations of feasting function to underscore or to subvert these texts. This volume explores the theological importance of meals in the context of community, covenants, and carousing.

About the Editor

Kirsten H. Gardner (PhD, Fuller Theological Seminary) is adjunct professor of Old Testament at Bethel Seminary. She holds an MS in Counseling Psychology (Chatham University) and is a priest in the Anglican Church of North America (Diocese of Pittsburgh). Her scholarly work focuses on the Book of Judges, and Judges 19, specifically.

Submission Requirements

All chapters submitted should conform to the grammar and formatting guidelines provided by Cambridge Scholars Publishing, which can be viewed here: <https://www.cambridgescholars.com/pages/forms-guidelines>;

Unless agreed with the Editor prior to submission, referencing should be in Chicago;

Any work submitted for publication should be free of copyright restrictions and a statement should be submitted in support of this;

Contributions should be scholarly rather than anecdotal or unverifiable;

Contributions must be wholly in English, excluding footnotes, appendices and short extracts for translation;

While we will perform pre-press evaluations on the collection, we do not provide full proofreading services, so we ask that works are submitted to us in their final, 'ready-to-go' form.
