

Re-examining Diversity and Social Justice in the Academy

Collection Editor: Alen Ontl

Description

A collection of papers examining the notions of social justice and diversity and how they either positively or negatively affect various aspects of the Academy. A critical approach which allows a diverse array of voices to be heard on this issue, from educators to independent thinkers, adopting different perspectives.

About the Editor

Alen Ontl, PhD, is a writer, translator and independent scholar. His articles have appeared in journals dedicated to philology and critical studies. His current areas of interest include comparative literature, philosophy, cross-cultural studies and systems theory.

Submission Requirements

All chapters submitted should conform to the grammar and formatting guidelines provided by Cambridge Scholars Publishing, which can be viewed here: <https://www.cambridgescholars.com/pages/forms-guidelines>;

Unless agreed with the Editor prior to submission, referencing should be in Chicago;

Any work submitted for publication should be free of copyright restrictions and a statement should be submitted in support of this;

Contributions should be scholarly rather than anecdotal or unverifiable;

Contributions must be wholly in English, excluding footnotes, appendices and short extracts for translation;

While we will perform pre-press evaluations on the collection, we do not provide full proofreading services, so we ask that works are submitted to us in their final, 'ready-to-go' form.

You can view open projects at the link below:

<https://www.cambridgescholars.com/pages/guest-edited-collections>

