

Risk management Via Analyzing Risk in Banking, Insurance, Stock and Investment Sectors After the Global Economic Crisis

Collection Editor: Dinh Tran Ngoc Huy

Description

Contemporary Risk management is rising as one of hottest issues since global crisis 2007-2009, esp. during modern technology revolution in recent years (4.0 and further). The financial crisis in 1997-1999 and 2007-2009 are among vital attributes to failures in corporate governance system and esp, risk management system in enterprises. Enhancing corporate governance with stronger risk management processes will help firms to prevent and control risk better, esp. In the context the economic recession might happen because of China-US commerce war and Covid-19 consequences. Also, though this book is written for banks and financial service firms, most of other companies in various countries and markets can also see implications for their policies and practices in this version. This is another goal of this book presence.
