

Transnational Migration and Homeland: Diasporas and Political Action

Collection Editor: Dr Maria Eugenia Cruset

Description

This collection is seeking articles which analyse the political activities of migrant groups (diasporas) in their countries of origin. In particular the collection aims to spotlight the political experiences of women in the diaspora. Chapters should examine the approaches, agendas and intentions of these peoples, using theoretical examination and case studies where possible.

About the Editor

Maria Eugenia Cruset has a PhD in History (University of the Basque Country) and a Master in International Relations (IRI, National University of La Plata). CONICET postdoctoral fellow. She directs the Free Chair of Irish culture at the National University of La Plata. She is a professor and researcher at the Catholic University of La Plata.

Submission Requirements

All chapters submitted should conform to the grammar and formatting guidelines provided by Cambridge Scholars Publishing, which can be viewed here: <https://www.cambridgescholars.com/pages/forms-guidelines>;

Unless agreed with the Editor prior to submission, referencing should be in Chicago;

Any work submitted for publication should be free of copyright restrictions and a statement should be submitted in support of this;

Contributions should be scholarly rather than anecdotal or unverifiable;

Contributions must be wholly in English, excluding footnotes, appendices and short extracts for translation;

While we will perform pre-press evaluations on the collection, we do not provide full proofreading services, so we ask that works are submitted to us in their final, 'ready-to-go' form.
